A ROBBERY FOILED

Last Thursday evening an attempt was made by two unidentified men to gain an entrance to the A. & B. Schuster store. It was prevented by the timely appearance of Officers Zuck and Newman. The burglars took alarm and escaped before they could be absolutely identified. From various clues Night Marshal Zuck is certain that they are the same men who broke into the store some time ago.

The alarm was given by Tommy Isaacson who rooms at the store. The attempt was made about 7:30 in the evening. One way you look at it, it is a pretty good "ad" for the store. Their stock is so good that not only customers but also burglars come back again for more.

FINDS FATHER IN LONG HUNT

TRAIL LED TO CANADA

Son Lost Track of Parent After Leaving Orphanage to Go to Work—Spends All His Vacations in Search.

Montreal.—An advertisement in a local paper and two photographs—one a mental picture of a baby boy and the other a faded, old-fashioned likeness of a man taken thirty-two years ago—brought a father and son together in the lobby of a hotel here after a mutual search of fifteen years.

When Bernard Leveque's wife died twenty-eight years ago he was obliged to put his two sons, a lad of seven and Bernard, Jr., aged six, in an orphanage at Ogdensburg, N. Y. The older boy died, but Bernard, Jr., thrived and went to New York to work. For fifteen years when permitted a vacation he spent it in search of his father, with the old-fashioned photograph in his possession.

Trail Led to Canada.

A month ago the son in searching for his parent came across a trail which led to Montreal, where he went a week ago after obtaining three weeks' vacation. His father had been all the while conducting a similar search, but with only a mind picture of the lad.

One morning word came to the son's room that a stranger wished to see him in the lobby of the hotel regarding an advertisement in the local paper. Carrying the yellowing picture Embraced the Boy.

In his hand, the boy met an elderly looking man in the lobby. The machine-made picture proved useless, as the son with the old photograph in his hand failed to recognize his father.

The phantom mind photograph was different, as Bernard Leveque, Sr., reached forward and embraced the boy whom he had not seen for twenty-eight years. Both wept with joy and it was not long before a score of guests crowded around the united father and son to listen to their stories of long search and final happy climax.

SISTERS HAVE SAME HUSBAND

Bigamy Charge Reveals Strange Marital Mixup in South Dakota Village.

Sioux Falls, S. D.—An unusual matrimonial tangle will occupy the attention of a jury at an approaching term of Circuit court in Brown county, South Dakota, when Thomas Dunham, a prominent and wealthy farmer living near the village of Hecla, will be tried on a bigamy charge. The arrest of Dunham brought to light a strange triangular matrimonial situation.

Two sisters, each legally married to Dunham, according to marriage certificates which were produced in court at the preliminary hearing of Dunham, were in court and naturally were keenly interested in the outcome. Their maiden names were Lucile and Hannah Gross. They at one time resided on their mother's farm in Yankton county, in the extreme southeastern part of South Dakota. Neither knew of the other's marriage.

Two Babies Born as Hospital Burns.

Quebec.—Two children were born while flames were eating their way through a hospital here. One child was born as his mother was being carried to safety, and the other arrived after the mother was placed in a nearby building.

Will Fund for New York Bread Line.

New York.—A fund to maintain a bread line in New York City is left by the will of Frederick Berthel, wealthy business man, who died recently in England. The will also leaves $100,000 to assist poor students through Columbia university.

OIL TERMS AND WHAT THEY MEAN IN PLAIN ENGLISH

It is most apparent to one listening to "street corner" conversations that the all absorbing topic in Holbrook at present is "OIL". Naturally the newspaper of current issues must and will carry considerable information along this line. While endeavoring to write as plainly as possible and as intelligibly as we can, we must often of necessity make use of certain half technical terms.

We profess no deep knowledge of the subject and are taking it for granted that others among our readers are not well posted as to the meaning of such terms. Bearing this in mind, with the very able assistance of Mr. Frank O'Connell whose knowledge of oil fields makes his help doubly worthwhile and after a careful perusal of Dorsey Hager's bulletin, we are offering this simple glossary of oil terms, attempting to define some terms commonly used in oil articles in such a manner that they may be comprehensible to the reader who has had no previous experience in an oil field.

STRATA—A term used to designate the separate and distinct layers, some of rock, some of sand etc. which go to make up the earth's crust.

In a layer cake the layers and filling would rather accurately portray the formation of the earth's surface.

ANTICLINE—Through various causes, internal pressure, volcanic disturbances, the gradual cooling of the earth's surface, magnetic influences or like reasons, the smooth surface of the earth centuries ago was bent and twisted to form deep folds. These have no relation to the small hills which crop up everywhere, but are folds in the rock strata which form the skeleton of the earth. The HIGHEST part of these folds is called an Anticline. These folds may be of considerable extent.

SYNCLINE—The LOWEST part of the fold in the earth referred to above is called a Syncline.

GEO-SYNCLINE—In a Syncline there will be some part where the depression in the earth is much lower than at any other point, this extremely low point is referred to as a Geo-syncline.

MONOCLINE—The area on the slope, between the axis on top of the Anticline and the Syncline at the base, is called the Monocline.

FOLDS—There are smaller disturbances of the rock strata which serve to bend the layers or strata until there exists a decidedly higher section with a slope on both sides.

CLOSURES—Where the rock folding or bending is concentrated in one place forming a peak or hillock from which the surrounding strata slopes away on ALL sides it is referred to as a Closure. Oil is frequently found at the top of these Closures being held somewhat after the fashion of water in the trap under a sink.

FAULTS—Sometimes the strata or layers of rock are broken, by earth quakes or other disturbance. This break in the smooth strata is called a Fault.

(Next week's issue will continue these definitions.)

CHRISTMAS LETTERS

SOMETIMES a letter means more than all the cards and gifts in the world. Why not send a Christmas message by letter this year? A bright holiday seal stuck at the top will introduce your remarks in a jolly fashion, and then you may continue with whatever you think friendly and suitable. This is a cheap method in the actual expenditure of money, but a rich outlay of thought for those you love. Have you not discovered that something somebody does just for you is more precious than a present bought in a hurry? Christmas letters bring great joy. Try some and see!

Hats Off, Please.

Our hats go off to the Lady Ed. For the wonderful change in the Holbrook News. For a time that sheet was all but dead And its feeble gasps gave one the blues. For a time, it seemed, that never again Would the zest of life adorn its face, And to anxious friends it caused a pain To see the News give up the race.

But all is changed, the dew of death Has given place to life renewed, And once again has vital breath Filled its frame, and health ensued. What miracle, O Lady Fair Has wrought this change, subdued our woes? Have you the magic touch so rare That heals and comforts as it goes?

Our hats go off to the Lady Ed. For her wonderful touch of feminine art. And when all is done and all is said, With this old world we want to part If the lady folk should cease to lend Their intuition and their sense And daily o'er our blunders bend. They are life's greatest recompense.

Contributed, M. R. T.

Thanks, very much. This is the best Christmas present we've received so far. "The Lady Ed."
